New Generation's Coaches

New Generation was set up by myself (Tom) and 3 British trainers (Warren, Ali and Richard) in 1998. Since then we have recruited some of the best British coaches to work alongside us and help to train the future personalities of British ski instruction. In 2009 we had over 15 BASI trainers and instructors working with New Generation. I guarantee that when you join one of our courses you will be trained by some of the best.

Tom Saxlund

ISTD and BASI Trainer, Managing Director and owner of New Generation
Ex-BASI Board Director. Seasons in Portes Du Soleil, Verbier, La Clusaz, Meribel and Courchevel.

Euan Wright

ISTD and head New Generation coach, Ex-head coach at Interski (Italy)
ISIA course trainer, Technical expert for 'inthesnow' magazine
Seasons in Whistler/ Blackcomb, Les Deux Alpes, Aosta Valley, Courchevel.

Roy Henderson

ISTD, BASI trainer, BASI off-piste chief examiner. Seasons in Courchevel and Meribel.

Dave Meyer

ISTD and instructor trainer for New Generation. Seasons in Nevis Range, Queenstown, Les Deux Alpes, Aosta Valley, Val d'Isere and Meribel. Technical expert for Daily Mail Ski & Snowboard magazine.

Why join the ISIA Training Course?

The New Generation ISIA training course offers students the best opportunity and support for moving forwards in their career as a ski instructor. The step from 'Ski Instructor' to ISIA is a big one but with the help of our BASI trainers and ISTD's, students will be coached towards the key modules.

In the last few years we have had very high pass rates from our students who took their Technical, Teaching and Mountain Safety exams. We hopefully had something to do with this, but it also wouldn't have been possible without the 100% commitment and determination of the students on the course.

Dedicated Coaching

We believe that a major factor behind the satisfaction of our students is our approach to coaching. Our team of experienced instructors find that one of the most satisfying parts of their job is helping students succeed in their chosen career.

Aside from the formal training programme, you will find that there is always someone available to help you with anything from your own technical skiing to organising your lesson plans. Our goal is to give you the support you need to make you succeed.

A future with New Generation

New Generation is committed to helping British instructors through the system. On successful completion of the ISIA selected students have the opportunity to train and work in our Verbier Ski School. Our ski school in Verbier was set up in 2006 to help students develop their teaching experience at the same time as training for their ISTD.

Pre-requisites

Before applying, students must have successfully completed the BASI Alpine Level 2 Course.

The Training Programme

The course consists of:

Structured training spread throughout the season.

180 hours on-snow training (Including Race Training)

Sessions generally take place every afternoon, Monday to Friday, although there will be occasions where sessions may take place in the morning.

Scheduled video feedback sessions throughout the course.

Each session will have a clear format e.g. the first 30 minutes will be presenting the outcome/task. The following 2 hours on performing the task with feedback and the remaining time will be taken up on summary/video/personal action plan and training.

All training will take place on the type of terrain used for technical exams.

Each student is given a coaching mentor who will monitor their progress and help the student to structure their practice time by regular debriefs and action plans.

Teaching Hours

BASI requires that candidates must complete 200 hours of teaching before they attend the technical and teaching modules. These teaching hours can be completed either on snow or on a dry slope. The New Generation course has been structured around the peak season periods - thus allowing students time to teach during the holiday weeks. We operate a Recruitment Service with links to schools worldwide which can help you find employment and teaching placements.

The 3 key elements of the New Generation ISIA Training

The New Generation ISIA Training Course is centered on helping our students develop a greater understanding of, and improving performance in the following three areas...

1. Technical Skiing (including Alpine Performance)
2. Off-Piste Mountain Safety
3. Teaching Skills and Techniques

1. Technical

The technical goal of the ISIA training course is to improve candidates performance in the Five Strands. By using the BASI Performance Criteria as a benchmark for training and a way to improve performance, all sessions are outcome orientated. The following performance criteria are used as the basis of the sessions....

Piste Performance (High Speed)

1. Cleanly carved, flowing turns throughout the arc.
2. Demonstrate the ability to influence the shape of the turn
3. Maintain effective balance and posture.

Piste Performance (Short Turns)

1. Grippy turns in a narrow corridor (2.5 metre min)
2. Demonstrate a high degree of ski performance
3. Maintain effective balance and posture.

Variable/Steep

1. Rounded, flowing turns of varying radii.
2. Demonstrate a high degree of ski performance
3. Maintain effective posture and balance throughout.

Bumps

1. A fall line descent (unless the task is varied)
2. Skiing at /above the minimum speed
3. Maintain effective balance and posture throughout.

Race Training

Introduction to gates to assist in technical development

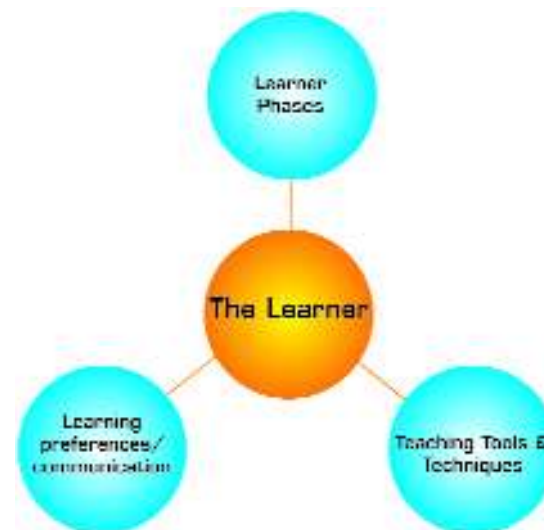

2. Off-Piste & Mountain Safety

This part of the course focuses on preparing the student for the BASI off-piste module. From ski technique to transceiver training, avalanche awareness to map reading, ski touring to steep off-piste skiing - the experienced New Generation off-piste trainer will cover all major areas in preparation for the exam.

Note: It is recommended that you purchase a transceiver, shovel and probe - During BASI courses students are required to carry these items whenever skiing off piste and you may be turned away from certain training sessions if you are not properly equipped.

3. Teaching Skills & Techniques

The teaching training follows the syllabus of the ISIA teaching module. The student will develop skier analysis and goal setting skills, and learn how to provide detailed individual action plans. Students will run mock teaching sessions for the group, providing essential experience training their peers which is a core skill required for the BASI teaching module. Overall this module aims to develop a teacher-centered teaching approach. The diagram below illustrates the content and structure of the teaching module.

Fit's and Posner's model of skill acquisition. How to discover which phase clients are in, selecting appropriate activities and session structure to maximise outcomes.

Understanding the learner: Goals, Desires and Motivation. The negotiation process.

Asking the right questions, 'Leading' (state changes), Tuning in quickly, Visual, auditory, Kinesthetic, Proprioception, KISS, See/Think/Do/Feel, Adapt content to suit, Feedback, MCA Perception, Body Languages, Past experiences.

Course Dates and Fees (2011)

To take advantage of our early booking price an initial £500 deposit is required to reserve your space. We will then provide a payment plan so you can pay the rest by instalments in 2010. Please send a cheque, 2 photos and your application form (on next page) to the address below. On receiving these you will be guaranteed your place on the course subject to our terms and conditions.

In the 2011 season New Generation are running 2 ISIA courses - one in Courchevel and one in Meribel with a maximum of 8 candidates in each.

Course Fee £1995 (Early Booking Price - Valid until 1st March 2010)

Training will take place during the following dates:

Mon 10th Jan - End March 2011 (Courchevel and Méribel)

Breaks in training are taken through the course to allow students to work during the peak half-term weeks. New Generation has links with Inter-ski (Italy) through which students can find guaranteed jobs to earn money and gain valuable teaching hours. The end of the course is dependent on when BASI schedule the Mountain Safety Courses at the end of March (most students normally sign up on this course).

Please note that the Course does not include:

Accommodation & Food; Lift Pass; Transfers; BASI Exam Fees

If you need help with any of the above we are happy to put you in contact with the appropriate companies.
